Speech Title:	Grit: The Strongest Predictor of Success
Speaker:	Angela Duckworth
Summary of the Video:	The video explains how a person who developed a grit mindset is predicted to a successful person
Speech Content:
Introduction: (How did the speech start?)	Duckworth began by describing herself as a seventh-grade math teacher, as well as her experiences, realizations, and how each of her students differs.
Body: (What were the main points?)	That learning and success have no bounds, that they are both conceivable if we put in the effort. Throughout her career as a teacher, she has come to the conclusion that education requires a greater understanding of pupils and learning from a motivational and psychological standpoint. That there is a need to better understand students, and that learning to understand students must be done in both a motivating and educational manner. According to Duckworth's own words, "Grit is having stamina, Grit is sticking with your future, day in, day out, not just for the week, not just for the month, but for years, and working really hard to

Conclusion: (How did the speech end?)	make that future a reality. Then she further explains how a person with this mindset and attitude, it is possible that they will land on the hands of success thru hard work and effort and is predicted they will be on the higher grounds, with grit. After explaining the whole speech, Duckworth encourages people to try building a grit-ty attitude as part of their ambitions because grit an ability to believe that learning is not fixed when you apply effort to it, It is to believe that failure is never a lasting state, they persevere. Conclusion: Therefore the topic of the speaker is very interesting to those who want to push more energy and passion to meet their long-awaited desire which is success and encouraging to develop grit mindset in kids and adults for it is very helpful when you want to reach your biggest goals and every individual in this world has its own intelligence on certain things. Some may not know on how

	to build things physically but by knowledge and IQ. We people who know such things ahead of the young, We need to teach them what we had learn from our teachers. In this way they will have the knowledge in advance. As in the video had said "we need to be gritty about our kids grittier" and this can be a life changing quote to the future of our own country. Grit is one of the things we need to apply to ourselves. Grit means you have the courage and strength to your character. Grit makes you special in your way and helps you boost confidence in the way you act in the community. Grit also helps us to be better at school and to be better in the future. The video is an amazing representation that all of us need to have grit and make ourselves more different from others but to help them even in a little way to make themselves comfortable.
Delivery Skills and Techniques

(What are the best/worst delivery skills/techniques of the speaker?)	Her body language and how clearly she states each part of her speech very clean is a great technique to keep your audience's attention, and with a voice loud but clear, hand movements and keeping eye contact also makes the audience's eyes so straight forward to her and with a topic about success that is explained with facts and discoveries coming from her as a professional is very convincing that the speaker delivered very well.
Bias/Prejudice (Did the speaker show bias? Why? Why not?)	No, she didn't practice bias, she shared on how people who developed a grit mindset will work its way to success with the support of official psychology research articles and being a professional psychologist herself.
Ted Talk Review

(Would you recommend this video to fellow students? Explain.)	Yes, as a high school student, I will also recommend this to other students from different schools and to others who are willing to have grit in their lives. This video contains lots of important information that can change your point of view when it comes to reaching you ambition. This video is also helpful to people of all ages so that they can lean GRIT and apply it in their way of success.
